Advice of Mother no Doubt Prevents Daughter's Untimely End.

Ready, Ky.—"I was not able to do anything for nearly six months," writes Mrs. Laura Bratcher, of this place, "and was down in bed for three months."

I cannot tell you how I suffered with my head, and with nervousness and womanly troubles.

Our family doctor told my husband he could not do me any good, and he had to give it up. We tried another doctor, but he did not help me.

At last, my mother advised me to take Cardui, the woman's tonic. I thought it was no use for I was nearly dead and nothing seemed to do me any good. But I took eleven bottles, and now I am able to do all of my work and my own washing.

I think Cardui is the best medicine in the world. My weight has increased, and I look the picture of health."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, get a bottle of Cardui today. Delay is dangerous. We know it will help you, for it has helped so many thousands of other weak women in the past 50 years.

At all druggists.

THE THEATERS

David Belasco produced this week Roland Molneux's play, "The Man Inside," a story of crime and prison, with a plea for the reformation of the criminal. Helen Freeman as the heroine made a hit.

Channing Pollock's dramatization of "The Inner Shrine," by Basil King, had its first presentation on the stage in Scranton, and has started on a short road tour, preparatory to its appearance in New York.

"The Madcap Duchess," with music by Victor Herbert made a hit in New York when produced there this week.
It is taken from a story of Justin Huntley McCarthy, the book and ly-

This clever little actress will be seen in a new production, which gives her a splendid opportunity to show her ability in Indian roles. Miss Dark-feather, who really is an Indian princess, portrays the role of "Wanda," the Hopi maid, in the new western feature, "An Indian Maid's Strategy."

A few years ago, the identity of motion picture players was not revealed by producers except in remote instances, for the very good and simple reason that nobody seemed to care who they were. "That chap with the curly hair," sufficed to identify the favorite "picture hero"—everybody knew him by some such designation.
But now it's "Oh! there's Maurice Cos-

Scene from "The Third Degree" by the Myrtle-Harder Stock Company.

rics by David Stevens, and is a romantic, not comic opera.

Lowell Sherman, the leading man of the Poli Players, was with Blanche Bates when Belasco produced "The Girl of the Golden West." When Mr.
Sherman heard that the "original girl" was the happy mother of a daughter, he telegraphed: "Best wishes for the No. 2 Girl Company."

James E. Sullivan, the well known comedian, who has a prominent part in "The Innocent Sinner," will be remembered by theatergoers for his work with Fritz Scheff in "The Red Feather," and with Julian Eltinge. He is a New York man and made his first appearance with Harrigan and Hart in the heyday of their success.

That was a pretty bouquet which Robert Hilliard threw to Manager Dean at the Academy of Music, when the popular actor thanked the Academy manager for his energetic efforts in bringing about such a fine audience as greeted Mr. Hilliard. The actor and manager have been friends for the last twenty-five years, dating from Mr. Hilliard's debut as a star in "Mr.
Barnes of New York."

Carl Stockdale, one of the cleverest actors in the motion picture ranks today, is so enamored of life in the Western Essanay Studio at Niles, Calif., that he has made up his mind to set up his household goods there.
To this end he has sent back East for his father and mother and is now busy installing them in the new home in Essanay Village.

Princess Mona Darkfeather is the newest addition to the Kaleidoscopes.

It isn't at all surprising that the attitude of the public toward the players in motion pictures should undergo a change as they appeared on the screens day after day and week after week. As the public began to call the players by name, it quickly established preferences for certain of them.
Among those who early became fa-avorites and have always remained so are Arthur V. Johnson, Augustus Carney and Marc McDermott.

Mr. Johnson is the lanky, awkward-appearing leading man in Lubin pictures. But, of course, the awkward-ness is all "put on." Mr. Johnson is a director—a stage manager, so to speak—and knows the game from A to Z. That awkwardness is his idea of making his histrionic efforts distinctive. A natural humorist and an actor of magnetic personality and unusual versatility he long ago established himself in the motion picture firmament.

Augustus Carney is his real name, but everybody knows him as "Alkali Ike." Next to "Broncho Billy," he has done more than any half-dozen players to popularize Essanay films.
As a fun-maker and laugh provoker he has no near rival. The best of it is, he always seems to be having as much fun as anybody!

The work of Marc McDermott is always a little more serious, and here his long and remarkably successful stage career stands him in good stead.
His first appearance in this country—he is an Englishman—was with Mrs.
Patrick Campbell in "Magda," "Joy of Living," etc.

The return of the Myrtle-Harder Stock Company to the Robinson Grand recalls to the minds of Clarksburg theatergoers what this organization had here the last engagement. They present plays and complete productions of plays of today, and with the big productions they will present next week, the management expects to break all previous records for attendance.

The opening performance of "The Fortune Hunter" is a happy selection, as it is positively one of the brightest and prettiest plays ever written, and every one can recall the big success it was in New York at the New Amsterdam theater.

Manager Pascoe, of the Lyceum theater, announces the coming of the Pierce Gordon Company, which opens at the Lyceum for a full week with matinee performances Monday.
This big attraction is the first of its kind to play the city at any time. It is a mammoth production in every respect, carrying special scenery, electrical effects and five tons of baggage. The wardrobe of Miss Mary Gordon alone is a feature for any attraction.

The management will give three shows daily, a matinee at 2:30 p. m. and two shows each night at 7 and 9:30 p. m. As usual the performances will include two reels of first-run pictures. The management has also decided that the price of admission for this big attraction will be ten

Avoid Sedative Cough Medicines.

If you want to contribute directly to the occurrence of capillary bronchitis and pneumonia, use cough medicines that contain codine, morphine, heroin and other sedatives when you have a cough or cold. An expectorant like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is what is needed. It cleans out the culture beds or breeding places for the germs of pneumonia and other germ diseases. That is why pneumonia never results from a cold when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used.
It has a world wide reputation for its cures.
It contains no morphine or other sedative.

MOUNT CLARE

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE)

MT. CLARE, Nov. 15.—The sanctuary of the Methodist Episcopal parsonage was invaded Thursday evening by a large gathering of representatives of the Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist Episcopal church and Willing Workers of the Methodist Protestant church who took the new pastor, the Rev. Mr. Workman and his family by complete surprise. After gaining admission into the commodious parsonage, Guy Matheny, acting as spokesman, stepped forward and in a short and well timed speech made known the cause of the abrupt invasion being an errand of love and respect for the good parson and his family, and as the baskets or packages of useful articles were being unloaded on the table the look of appreciation was clearly manifested in the faces of the recipients. The pastor replied in a very feeling address to the donors in which he expressed his thanks and appreciation in no uncertain words. This was followed by an introduction of each donor present by Mrs. Luther M. Combs, president of the Ladies Aid Society, and after spending some time in pleasant conversation all returned to their homes feeling happy over the fact of having borne a humble part in this token of love and christian fellowship. The one sermon thus far preached by the new pastor from the theme, "Aggressive Christianity," was well received and favorably commented on by those who heard it.

Two miners, both of Austrian birth, have lost their lives in the coal mines here in the last ten days.
The first one, on November 8, was caught under a fall of slate in the Hutchinson mine, which crushed both him and the mule he was driving. The other was crushed by a mine car at the two lick mine.

A valuable mule belonging to the Byron Domestic Coal Company, was so badly injured Tuesday that it had to be shot.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. McVicker have moved to Clarksburg, where they will make their future home.
